

VEGETABLE PLANTING TIMES BY ZONE

Use your USDA Hardiness Zone to know when to plant.

VEGETABLE	 ZONE 3-4 Short Season	 ZONE 5-6 Medium Season	 ZONE 7-8 Long Season	 ZONE 9-10 Very Long Season
 TOMATOES	Start indoors 4-6 weeks before last frost. Transplant late May to early June.	Start indoors 4-6 weeks before last frost. Transplant mid-April to mid-May.	Start indoors 4 weeks before last frost. Transplant March to April.	Plant in fall or winter for spring harvest, or early spring. Can plant year-round in warm areas.
 LETTUCE	Sow seeds 4-6 weeks before last frost. Again in late July.	Sow seeds 4-6 weeks before last frost. Again in August.	Plant February to March and again in fall.	Plant October to March. Can grow all winter in mild areas.
 CARROTS	Sow seeds 4-6 weeks before last frost. Again in early July.	Sow seeds 2-4 weeks before last frost. Again in July.	Sow seeds February to March and again in fall.	Plant October to February. Best in cooler months.
 BEANS	Plant after all danger of frost has passed. (Late May to June)	Plant after all danger of frost has passed. (April to May)	Plant February to March. Can plant again in late summer.	Plant September to April. Can grow in warm areas year-round.
 CUCUMBERS	Plant after all danger of frost has passed. (Late May to June)	Plant after all danger of frost has passed. (April to May)	Plant March to April. Can plant again in late summer.	Plant September to April. Best in fall and winter.

TIP: Dates are general guidelines. Always check your local frost dates and soil temperature for best results!

Vegetable-Gardening-Online.com

